5 Tips For Modernizing Your Bathroom

We all know a bathroom remodel is on everyone's dream to-do list, but it isn't always the right time or in the budget. Mixing Metals

Mixing metals within your bathroom is a true design trick for freshening up your space. Picking a dominant finish amongst your metals is the most important step. After choosing your main metal, decide on one or two accent metals to create contrast. Maintaining symmetry within your space by using each metal at least twice makes certain it doesn't seem like your accent finishes are a mistake. You can always experiment on a smaller scale with mirrors, wall art, and decor before you transition into bigger pieces within your bathroom such as your faucet and cabinet hardware.

Mixing warm and cool tones or shiny and matte finishes is encouraged for the most modern transformation to your space. Your main metal can be a brushed finish such as brass or gold paired with an accent metal that has a polished finish such as chrome and nickel for contrast. Sprinkle in oil rubbed bronze or matte black to break up the tones or use these as your accent metal of choice to completely modernize and neutralize your bathroom.

One-Handle Faucet

Any bathroom styled from classic to rustic can be transformed by just an update to the faucet. Changing out your builder's grade faucet for a modernized one-handle faucet is a great place to start.

Even if the traditional Chrome and Silver are still your go to finishes, transitioning to a one-handle faucet can allow for a sleek yet elegant focal point within your space!

Pro Tip: Even if your existing bathroom has a widespread or three-holed faucet, one-handle faucets have the option of a deck plate to hide those already drilled holes.

Dispensers To Match

To create a sleek and modern look without completely redecorating, bring in matching bathroom accessories for not only a clean and sophisticated look but for organizational needs as well. This can be used for contrasting colors or metals within your space to tie it all together or bring in a splash color to liven up your space!

Be on the look out for matching soap dispensers, toothbrush holders and storage jars to match with your paint colors, accent decor or towels. For even more of a modern look, switch out your shampoo, conditioner and body wash bottles for matching dispensers for a minimalist look within your shower, especially if you have a beautiful glass shower door to look through. Finding these simple yet transformative bottles and jars can not only make for a less cluttered space but a seamless transition into more modern styling.

Vanity Hardware

Updating your vanity hardware can be changed out in just a few hours, yet transforms the entire appearance and feeling of a space. Choosing sleek drawer pulls and petite door knobs that have strong geometric shapes, clean lines and bold finishes makes for a minimalistic space that screams modern and trendy.

Although some of us are not ready to go full modern, for a modern-yet-traditional look, try long brass or gold drawer pulls with clean lines. This brings in some color to your space that is still neutral enough to play around with your existing decor, space design and color palettes. To transform your space a full 180, try black hardware for an elegant, bold and sophisticated look. Natural wood finishes really pop with the addition of black hardware and can make an extremely modern design.

Textured Towels

One of the easiest ways to freshen up and modernize your bathroom is with a new set of towels. But not just any towels, really spruce up your space with textured towels that add interest and the feeling of being squared away in a luxe hotel spa.
